

HAVE FUN EXPLORING WITH NICKI NUSS

Little explorers will have no end of fun with Nicki Nuss, the NRW Foundation's inquisitive little squirrel. Nicki's exhibition explorer guide is full of puzzles waiting to be solved. Try them out and immerse yourself in Roman life. There's even a competition to win!

The NRW Foundation will pay for everyone in your class to travel to the exhibitions. Learning and activity resources are also available for your teachers.

Learn more at www.nrw-entdecken.de

5 EXHIBITION VENUES 5 PERSPECTIVES

ROMS FLIESSENDE GRENZEN

The participating museums are all offering a wide range of guided tours, events and workshops to enhance your learning experience. Learn more at www.roemer.nrw

You can download this flyer or order print copies (item no. S-334) at: www.mhkgb.nrw/broschueren

Ministerium für Heimat, Kommunales,
Bau und Gleichstellung
des Landes Nordrhein-Westfalen

Photo credits: Photos on inside pages: LVR-LMB / Dirk Schmitz; LWL / P. Jülich; LVR-APX / Axel Thünker DGPh
Black and white illustrations: Kaja Funke and iStock / seamartini
Squirrel, Nicki Nuss: drawn by Oliver Hartmann

Ministerium für Heimat, Kommunales,
Bau und Gleichstellung
des Landes Nordrhein-Westfalen

ROMS FLIESSENDE GRENZEN

Come and join us!

DISCOVER THE ROMANS!

The learning resources for young explorers visiting the Archaeological Exhibition of North Rhine-Westphalia were the idea of the NRW Foundation

5 EXHIBITIONS – 5 THEMES

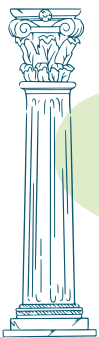

What was life like for the Romans and Germanic peoples?

Why was the Rhine a Roman frontier?

Did the Germanic peoples and Romans like each other?

How did the Romans rule the area?

What did the Romans build here?

The Rhine was a busy place 2,000 years ago. This was where the Roman border line, or Limes, ran between the Roman Empire and the territories of the Germanic peoples. In those days, the Roman and Germanic populations lived side-by-side, some mixing more than others. The people spent their time exploring, building and trading. Sometimes they fought battles.

The five “Rome’s Flowing Frontiers” exhibitions offer a unique opportunity to discover what life was like during the Roman period, be it in a Roman villa or a simple dwelling, as a Roman doctor or a simple auxiliary soldier.

Stunning new finds unearthed in your local area, detailed reconstructions and fun activities invite you to step back in time and discover more about Roman life in North Rhine-Westphalia.

Learn more at www.roemer.nrw

